

Dedicated Office Computer Servicing

Welcome! You've reached the home page for The Computer Mensch (pronounced men (t) sh, for the uninitiated) and we are the local and approachable resource for your home based and dedicated office computer servicing, repairs and updates.

Why Mensch? Because mensch means integrity. We do what we promise, guarantee what we do, to make you and your computer more efficient. That's integrity. We won't be parachuting onto your lawn in a cute euro-mobile nor will we come flying in on a jetpack (do they even make jetpacks?!). We offer no-nonsense service at real world rates. So click on an icon and take a tour. Learn how we keep you functioning, competent and confident. It's the mensch approach!

We won't be parachuting onto your lawn in a cute euro-mobile nor will we come flying in on a jetpack (do they even make jetpacks?!). We offer no-nonsense service at real world rates. So click on an icon and take a tour. Learn how we keep you functioning, competent and confident. It's the mensch approach!

The Mensch Advantage

As computer professionals with more than 20 years experience, we not only understand the latest technology, we talk about it in plain English. Our clients appreciate our down to earth approach to solving their problems and providing valuable technical! It is the expertise you expect to find in large corporations designed to help the home-based and small office professional stay productive!